Enclosed between the clear waters of the Ionian Sea and the green woods of its parks, the city of Crotona is located in one of the most fascinating territories of Italy, those of the Calabria region.

The port of Crotona was born at the beginning of the eighth century BC, when the city was founded by Greek colonists as new polis of Magna Graecia and soon activated intense commercial exchanges with the motherland, becoming a strategic point in the Mediterranean routes. Its great success was also due to Pythagoras, the famous Greek philosopher who decided to move from Greece to create here his own school.

Crotona Cruise Port manages the cruise terminal of Crotona offering transit, inter-porting and homeporting operations, as well as an increasingly wide range of ancillary services. Dedicated to small and medium sized ships, it is a hidden pearl in the heart of the Mediterranean Sea.

Thanks to a mild climate, a rich hospitality system and a modern and efficient infrastructural network, the Ionian Calabria finally shows its beauties also to the cruise public, a new emerging star in the panorama of the ports of the Mediterranean Sea.

City of Pythagoras

Crotone has always been known for its strong bond with Pythagoras. Right here, where the Greek colonists from Acacia founded the new polis in the seventh century BC, the philosopher decided to move from Greece and to create his school. Also thanks to him Crotone became one of the most important centers of Magna Graecia.

Even today, Greek customs and traditions remain, as well as a vast food and wine culture: it was in fact the Greeks who established vineyards and olive groves in the region, a heritage still renowned and appreciated by local inhabitants and tourists.

In addition to enjoying the charming streets of Crotone, from the city it is possible to set out to visit its magnificent hinterland, which includes archaeological sites, protected nature reserves and enchanting local beaches with attractive café bars serving delicious regional fish dishes.
