Where is Catania Cruise Port?

CATANIA
CRUISE PORT

Catania is the second largest city in Sicily after its capital Palermo. It's located on the east coast of the island, at the foot of Mount Etna. Its Mediterranean climate gives to Catania mild and pleasant temperatures even in winter time, making it a destination ideal for year-round cruising.

Thanks to its strategic geographical position in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea, the port of Catania is an interesting destination for all itineraries, able to be conveniently included in both West Med and East Med tours.

Catania Cruise Port manages the cruise terminal of Catania offering transit, inter-porting and homeporting operations, as well as an increasingly wide range of ancillary services. The port has four preferential cruise docks with a berthing capacity of up to four ships, plus another dock that in case of need can host one or two more ships and berthing facilities to serve the latest generation cruise ships.

Airport Connections

Vincenzo Bellini Airport

The port of Catania boasts a central position in the city, which allows it to have the main means of transport for urban and extra-urban areas just a few meters away.

Vincenzo Bellini international Airport is only 5 km drive from the port of Catania. It is the busiest airport in Sicily, especially because it offers travelers more than 100 destinations worldwide from two terminals.

The short distance and the wide range of connections make Catania even more attractive and suitable for making stopovers in homeport with guests from all over the world.

Catania

Welcome to the wonderful Catania, also known as the "black city" because of the colour of its buildings, blackened by the soot and ashes of the Etna volcano.
Recognized by UNESCO as a World-Heritage site, the city has an important cultural and artistic historical center. In Piazza Duomo, the Cathedral of S. Agata is a beautiful example of the Sicilian baroque.

Mount Etna

Etna is the largest European most active volcano. It never ceases to enchant with its lava flows and lunar landscapes. Through the centuries, its eruptions have shaped the volcano's slopes, designing unique sceneries of lava and ice.

The area is now an enormous nature reserve, full of walkable trails and an Astrophysical Observatory.

From Catania you can reach the South side, where it is possible to do many outdoors activities such as walking, skiing (winter times) and experiencing off-road jeep excursion with expert guides.

Syracuse

Masterpiece of Magna Graecia and homeland of the mathematician Archimedes, Syracuse overlooks the Ionian sea, enchanting everyone with its history, the wealth of its archaeological sites of Greek and Roman influence and the baroque architecture of Ortigia, its historic center, which enchants with its redundant lines and the brilliant white of its surfaces.

Strongly recommended for the ones who love history, beauty and, of course, romance.
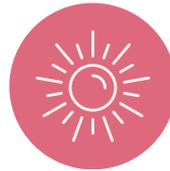

Why Catania?

LOCATION

The port of Catania is located in the middle of the Mediterranean, equidistant from the Suez Canal, Gibraltar and all African and European ports: this is why it is the crossroads of major cruise itineraries.

FACILITY

The port has three preferential cruise docks with a berthing capacity of up to four ships, plus other two docks that in case of need can host one or two more ships and a facility that can safely host the latest generation of cruise ships for transit and turnaround operations.

CLIMATE

Blessed by mild weather conditions, Catania is a cruise destination for all seasons and for all tastes. Jewel of Sicily, the city has Mount Etna behind and the sea right in front.

CONNECTION

High potential for pre & post cruise packages, thanks to the large hotel availability and port's proximity to the city's center and to the main air-train-road networks. The International Airport of Catania is only 5 km far from the port.
